Christmas at Wells returns with more than 200 stalls and two days of festive entertainment

There's less than a month to go until Wells welcomes more than 200 artisan stalls, live music, entertainment and family activities for two days of festive celebrations on Saturday 12th and Sunday 13th December.

Christmas at Wells will bring together independent businesses, artisan traders and a packed programme of festive activities, creating a vibrant weekend in the heart of the city.

Stretching from the bottom of Sadler Street through the Market Place, High Street, Queen Street and Broad Street, visitors will be able to explore more than 200 stalls offering everything from handmade gifts and seasonal products to festive food and refreshments. Set against the backdrop of Wells' new Christmas lighting, there will be plenty to discover throughout the city centre. A full list of businesses and stallholders attending Christmas at Wells will be available on Wells City Council's website.

A varied programme of live music and performances will also take place throughout the weekend. Visitors can look forward to performances from Wells City Band, Wells Theatre Festival, Seb Longhorn, Sounds Joyful, the Grey Dogs, Savage Sisters and more. Further details of the entertainment programme will be available on the Council's website.

Visitors can also make use of an interactive market map, available through the Council's website, to navigate the event, locate individual stalls and businesses.

Families can enjoy a Christmas trail, taking them around the city and introducing them to some of Wells' independent businesses. Trail sheets can be collected and returned to Wells Town Hall, with a prize available for those who complete the trail. Please note that stocks of trail sheets and prizes are limited and available on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Mayor of Wells, alongside the Town Crier, will officially open the Christmas Market on the morning of Saturday 12th December, marking the start of the weekend.

To accommodate the Wells City Christmas Market, temporary road closures will be in place across the city centre between 5am and 8pm on Saturday 12th and Sunday 13th December. The closures will affect Sadler Street, High Street, Broad Street, Mill Street, Guard House Lane, Townhall Buildings and Queen Street. Visitors, residents and businesses are encouraged to plan their journeys accordingly.
